

RESUMPTION OF WAR CERTAIN SAY ALLIES

REVOLUTION OF FEELING IN CON-STANTINOPLE AGAINST SUR-RENDER MAY START
WAR ANEW.

POWERS TO INTERFERE?

European Government Are Now in Communication And Will Probably Localize Conflict Should It Begin.

London, Jan. 24.—The confirmation of the news of the complete revulsion of feeling in Constantinople against the proposed surrender to the allies has created an impression among the powers that war will begin almost immediately.

There are, however, two currents of opinion among the representatives of the Balkan league. One of these is in favor of asking Sir Edward Grey as honorary president of the peace conference, immediately to convene a session of the delegates, at which the resumption of hostilities will be declared. The other urges that the powers should first be allowed to deal with Turkey.

The European governments are already in communication with regard to the situation. The view here is the reply of Turkey to the note of the powers must be awaited before any drastic action can be inaugurated.

Lack of information as to the real meaning and scope of the movement in Constantinople precludes in the official view anything in the nature of pre-emptory action. The delegates of the allies were busy all day obtaining the views of the foreign ambassadors prior to their formal meeting at the Serbian headquarters this evening.

At the headquarters of all the peace delegations the greatest activity and excitement prevails today. Cipher telegrams from Sofia, Belgrade, Athens and Cetinje crossed messages from London to those capitals, during the early morning hours.

Before noon the heads of the four delegations had held several meetings to discuss the situation. The allies seemed disposed to consider the revolution in Constantinople as an affront to the European powers more than to themselves. Therefore, they think that the powers are entitled to make the first move. Whatever it may be and whatever its result it cannot prejudice their future actions, they declare.

Say War is Inevitable.

Messages received from various points in the Balkans show that negotiations concerning the next developments are proceeding actively between the capitals of the allies. The delegations cannot be sure as to what will be their ultimate attitude until they have received instructions from their respective governments.

The delegates, however, consider that the resumption of the war in the course of next week is almost inevitable even if the powers should agree on active intervention.

No Comment at Berlin.

Berlin, Germany, Jan. 24.—The new situation in Turkey is commented on with great reserve in official quarters here. It is doubted whether diplomatic means will suffice to prevent the resumption of hostilities, but it is declared that the European powers will concentrate their efforts on localizing
the conflict should it break out again.

At Constantinople.

Constantinople, Jan. 24.—Fighting has occurred at several places in the city this morning. A dozen or more persons have been wounded and many arrests have been made.

Great public excitement has followed the killing of Nazim Pasha, the former war minister and commander of the Turkish army who was shot
during public demonstrations here last night.

Talaat Bey, the new minister of the interior informed the European embassies today that all measures necessary to insure the security of the city had been taken.

He also addressed circulars to the provincial governments explaining the reasons for the change in the government and calling upon the people to lend their moral and material aid to the government.

"We are determined," he said, "to defend the interests of the country
now face to face with the prospect of a resumption of hostilities."

Enver Bey, who has taken such a prominent part in the overthrow of Kiamil Pasha's cabinet, is the popular hero of the day.

The death of Nazim Pasha by a shot from the revolver of Enver Bey or Talaat Bey, is believed to have been accidental.

The two officers in order to protect themselves from the fire of Nazim's aide de camp who had shot at them from a window, drew revolvers and emptied them at him.

A bullet struck and killed Nazim
who was seated inside the room.

London, Jan. 24.—The new Turkish cabinet has decided to recall the Ottoman peace delegates from London according to a dispatch today from Constantinople. The Turkish government is said also to have requested its ambassadors at Vienna and St. Petersburg to return to the Turkish capital.

Enver Bey, the most spirited leader of the Young Turks was today appointed chief of the general staff of the Turkish army.

Russia Surprised.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 24.—Russia has not formulated any definite policy in face of the new situation at Constantinople which took the government, the press and the public entirely by surprise.

Warships Sent.

London, Jan. 24.—Italian, British and other warships have been ordered to proceed immediately to Turkish waters, according to dispatches from Mediterranean ports today.

NEW YORK WAITERS INSIST ON STRIKE

One Thousand Employees of Fashionable Restaurants Hold Mass

New York, Jan. 24.—Nearly 1,000 waiters and other hotel workers who struck last night at the hotels Rector and Cadillac and the Folies Bergere New York today in an attempt to put actively on foot the general strike voted by the union. Pickets were distributed through the hotel districts to urge on the hesitant and entrances were watched to check the importation of strike breakers.

Garment Workers' Riot.

Seventy striking garment workers fought in the streets of Brooklyn today with 300 employees of a factory who refused to quit work. When the police reserves cleared the streets they found one man badly wounded and a dozen others with minor injuries. Stones and revolvers were used by the rioters.

COREY ON STAND IN STEEL TRUST PROBE

Former President of Steel Corporation Questioned Concerning Steel Rail Pool.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, Jan. 24.—William E.
Corey, former president of the United States Steel Corporation, testified on cross examination today in the government's suit to dissolve the corporation. Mr. Corey was asked concerning the steel rail pool among American manufacturers. He said that the pool was a hang-over from a pool which existed before the corporation was organized. It was broken up, he said, in 1904 or 1905.

Corey also stated the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company was taken over by steel corporations during the year of 1907 despite his protests as president of the corporation at that time.

INDICTED FOUR MEN CHARGED WITH ARSON

Three of the Indicted are Public Fire Insurance Adjusters—Other Alleged Torch-Bearer.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Indictments against four men charging arson to defraud were returned today by the grand jury in connection with the investigation of the operations of the alleged "arson ring." Those named in the true bills were Samuel Rot-tenberg, Joseph Clarke, Harry Brown and John Kabilzak, with several aliases.

Rottenberg, Clarke and Brown are public fire insurance adjusters and Kabilzak is said to be one of the torch-bearers employed by the combine. The bonds of each defendant were fixed at $40,000.

Several other indictments are expected shortly.

ELECTION CONTEST WILL BE DECIDED SHORTLY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., Jan. 24.—The election contest over the assembly seat of John O'Day may be fully investigated that body according to the opinion of attorney general Owen made public at noon. Before the committee can subpoena witnesses, however, a resolution must be passed by the assembly authorizing it to do so.

home eight days ago for Green Bay
where he said he desired to attend to a few personal business matters.

TAX MINERAL LANDS UNDER NEW SYSTEM

tax mineral lands. According to Bill Which Will be Introduced by Assemblyman Laursen.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., Jan. 24.—Wisconsin
may enter on a new system of taxation for lands containing mineral riches. Assemblyman Hans M. Laur-sen, of Shell Lake, today introduced a bill in the assembly to have these lands valued on the basis of the amount of ore in the ground. This valuation is to pay the same general property tax as all other property.

Laursen's scheme provides that the assessor of incomes shall before May 1st of each year furnish the local assessor of each town a description of all the mineral reservations in the district. The assessing officer may compel the owner of such reservation to make a return under oath as to the value of such right and the value at which the owner holds the same. If the owner declines to give this information to the assessor the Laursen bill gives the assessor power to fix the value. This value cannot be changed except by the owner of the reservation appearing before the board of review.

There are two systems of taxing ore deposits. The first is used in the state of Michigan and embodies the idea contained in the Laursen bill. This plan is to tax ore deposits on the same value as general property. The other plan, which has been adopted in the state of Minnesota, and which is generally approved by conservationists, is to tax the ore
when it is taken out of the ground at a certain amount per ton. This is what is known as the harvest tax.
Conservationists claim that where ore fields have to pay the general property tax the owner of these ore reservations is obliged to do his mining immediately, and then abandon the reservation. By taxing the ore as it is taken out of the ground there is a tendency on the part of the owners of ore deposits not to dig the ore before it is needed for consumption.

State Forrester E. M. Griffith recently discovered that big financial concerns in the east were acquiring all of the ore held in northern Wisconsin. These are some assemblymen from the northern districts who claim that the Laursen bill will put a damper on these acquisitions. Eastern concerns do not desire to pay a heavy general property tax on property every year. Aside from the iron ore deposits in the Lake Superior region that will come under this bill if enacted into law, there are lead deposits in Grant and La Fayette counties in southwestern Wisconsin.

ARREST A SUSPECT IN CHICAGO MURDER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Davenport, Ia., Jan. 24.—George Kramer, said to be wanted in Chicago charged with the murder of the diamond merchant Logue, was arrested in Davenport last night. He had been working in the shoe in Bettenhoff for several weeks. He was lodged in jail last night, being held for investigation.

Letter Among Effects.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Chief of detectives John J. Halpin, has explained that a letter signed by Kramer was found among the personal effects of Joseph H. Logue, the murdered diamond merchant who was killed in his office, December 20. The letter requested Logue to sell 50 pounds of silver. Later Captain Halpin recognized a photograph of Kramer as that of a man who was convicted of committing several burglaries on the west side and sentenced to the penitentiary eight years ago.

SUFFRAGE CAMPAIGN AT CRITICAL STAGE

Alfred Lyttleton, in House of Commons, Moves to Strike Out Word
"Male" from Franchise Reform Bill.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, Jan. 24.—The critical stage was reached this afternoon in the forty-five years of struggle to obtain votes for women, a fight which was started in the house of commons by John Stuart Mill in 1867. Alfred Lyttleton, immediately after "question time," moved the amendment to eliminate the word "male" from the franchise reform bill. He urged the trend of recent legislation was to call women into the councils of the nation. Already he said women had been called to assist in numerous departments.

CONTROL OF ASSETS STOUTLY DENIED BY PARTNER OF MORGAN

Says One Hundred And Eighty Men Do Not Manipulate Twenty-five Billion Corporation Property.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Jan. 24.—Henry P.
Davison, partner of J. P. Morgan gave a written statement to the house money trust committee denying that the one hundred and eighty men by interlocking directorates controlled twenty-five billion corporations' assets.
He claims poor banking systems in the United States has caused the financial trouble. James J. Hill, was the next witness. On the question of interlocking directors Mr. Hill said he held that the propriety of the tactics rested entirely upon the character of the individual man.

day decided it would be unwise to open

Former Speaker Cannon today urged the house to pass the senate bill for the construction of a two million dollar Lincoln memorial structure in Washington. Lincoln, Lee and Jefferson Davis were named by Mr. Cannon as the greatest men in American history.
Their names he said would be remembered when the men prominent in public today had been forgotten. The senate today went on record the second time in favor of the Lincoln memorial project in this city.

Samuel Gompers president of the American Federation of Labor today asked the house judiciary committee to postpone action on the workmen's compensation bill until railroad brotherhood employs opposed to it could be heard.

Mr. Untermyer took up Mr. Davi-son's statement of yesterday that "the concentrated banking resources in New York was sufficient to care for the business of the country at its present development."

"There is less consolidation in New York banking today than there was ten years ago," said Mr. Davison. "The resources of New York are only 18 percent of the resources of the entire country. We are dealing today in larger units, industrially, commercially and every other way. In many instances a corporation may want to borrow up to five million dollars. It is much to that corporation's advantage to be able to make that loan from a single bank than to have to go shopping around making loans of five hundred thousand here and there."

"Don't you think that it would be an advantage to have a good many independent banks in New York so that he could have some place to go shopping around if he had to?" asked Mr. Un-termyer. "I think the banks of New York are independent," replied Mr.
Davison.

Mr. Davison added he knew of no banks in New York controlled by any other bank.

Mr. Davison distinguished between control of stock and control of the management of banks. He reiterated that a law preventing "interlocking directors" would set the country back 25 years. He agreed with Mr. Untermyer that it might be well to curtail the size of boards of directors of banks.

PROPOSE MEASURES FOR IMPROVEMENT OF RURAL SCHOOLS

County Board of Education Prominent Among Public Affairs Board
Recommendations—Green Bay Wants a Normal.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Jan. 24.—Bills for improvement of the rural schools of Wisconsin, most important of which is one creating a county board of education, will be offered in the legislature early next week. These bills have been prepared by the state board of public affairs after exhaustive investigations into the common school system. The plan of a county board of education is also endorsed by the committee of fifteen appointed by State Superintendent C. P. Gary.

The proposed county board of education will comprise three members, elected biennially, to be unsalaried,
but to draw a per diem and mileage.
It will be empowered to appoint a county inspector of schools, who shall be clerk of the board, a salaried officer. Additional inspectors may be appointed in counties having more than 100 schools.

New State Aid Plan.

Qualifications of the inspector are:
Two years of professional training in a county training school, state normal school or higher institution, and three years of satisfactory experience in rural schools.

State aid will be granted. Counties will be apportioned according to their assessed valuation, four groups of counties being proposed, and counties
having the smallest assessed valuation will receive the largest proportion of state aid. Counties must pay the county inspector at least $1,500 and provide clerical assistance to be entitled to state aid.

Another bill endorsed by the public affairs board is intended to insure efficient teaching of agriculture and domestic economy in rural schools. It provides for the appointment of a supervisor of agriculture and a supervisor of domestic art, to be members of the staff of the state superintendent, and for agricultural inspectors, to be members of the faculties of county schools of agriculture; and for other agricultural inspectors when there are no county agricultural schools.

Raise Teachers' Requirements.

Raising the qualifications for obtaining teachers' certificates is required in another of the bills to come next week. By its terms, after Jan. 1, 1915, ninth and tenth grade work is required before taking the six weeks'
professional training; after Jan. 1, 1919, ninth and tenth grade work is required as entrance qualifications to training schools; in case certificates are granted by the county superintendents the examinations in academic subjects are to be given by the state board of examiners.

Strengthening of the staff of school inspectors is the purpose of another bill by the board of public affairs. It provides for two inspectors to be temporarily appointed to assist districts in planning for centralized schools.

The "two-mile limit" law will be amended by the provision of a bill designed to insure the education of all children of school age who are outside of the two-mile limit. It will give the proposed county board of education power to make reasonable rules for the carrying of children in rural districts from their homes to the school-house.

Want Another Normal.

Assemblyman Archie McComb's
bill to establish a state normal school at Green Bay will have the unanimous backing of the commercial and civic bodies of his home city, according to that member. It is argued that northwestern Wisconsin is wholly lacking in higher institutions of this character, and that the nearest normal—that at Oshkosh—is well filled.

The McComb bill provides for an appropriation of $15,000 to be available by March 1, 1914, for the purchase of a site and grading and other preparing the grounds. The normal regents are empowered to choose the site and to report to the 1915 legislature. The bill will be supported at Madison by representative citizens,
according to its author.

Mr. McComb will introduce a bill soon to change the jurisdiction of the municipal court of Green Bay by increasing its jurisdiction in civil cases from those involving consideration of $150 as at present, to amounts of $15,000, and make appeals in civil cases directly to the supreme court
instead of to the circuit court.

Rural School Boards.

The committee on education in the assembly heard arguments by the state board of public affairs in favor of the Hansen bill providing compensation for school boards in rural communities. The bill permits school boards to draw a maximum of $25 annually, and leaves it optional with the treasurer and directors to accept at least $10 annually. At present there is a common salary of $10 for all school officers. The committee will report later on endorsement of the measure.

pany, 2500 North Broadway, which the police believe was started by burglars. The basement had been flooded by an automatic sprinkler.
Charles Koester, a pipeman, was overcome by ether fumes, and was drowned in three feet of water. The police found that several desks had been broken open and money and stamps taken. The building previously had been broken into Wednesday night when a desk was rifled.

FARMERS ORGANIZED A NEW ASSOCIATION

MASS MEETING HELD AT THE CITY HALL THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

SHOW MUCH INTEREST

Temporary Organization Perfected—Second Gathering Will be Held On The 28th.

At a meeting of some seventy interested beet growers in the assembly room of the city hall, Thursday, "The Rock County and Neighboring Counties Beet Growers Association" was formed. A committee of thirteen, one from each of the present weighing stations, appointed to affect a permanent organization and the pros and cons of the new contract offered by the Rock County Sugar Company for the coming season fully discussed.

H. C. Hemmingsway acted as chairman of the meeting and called the gathering to order, explaining the purpose of the proposed association and opening up the general discussion which followed. W. W. Wool, chief agriculturalist of the Rock County Sugar Company, spoke from the sugar company's point of view and A. C. Piper of Racine, president of a similar organization to the one proposed here, made suggestions as to organizations, the legal aspect of the situation being taken up by J. J. Cunningham.

Growers have organized in various parts of the state and such an organization was urged by the promoters of the Rock County association. It is to be an organization of beet growers in their own interests and they will have officers chosen by a board of directors to be named at the meeting which will be held January 28th, who will jointly handle the interests of the members.

An interesting discussion of the proposed contract of the local factory for the present season took place. Mr. Wool stating that the sugar company had put out the new form of contract which calls for delivery at the factory, with the weighing and taring done at the factory instead of at the receiving stations as formerly, as protection of their own interests due to the unsettled conditions of the tariff on the sugar products and the liability of a reduction in the importation rates by the incoming congress.

J. J. Cunningham defended the farmers' position in organizing as his opinion that if any changes were made in the present tariff, it would not be so great as to be detrimental to the farmers of the country. He spoke along the lines of organization of the individual growers to protect their own interests.

In the past the contracts have called for the delivery of beets at the various weighing stations, where they were weighed and tared, the grower given credit for the same at that time. They were then shipped to the factory where their saccharine qualities were tested and the grower received his check within thirty days after delivery.

The new contract of the sugar company calls for the delivery of the beets at the factory at Janesville, where they will be weighed and tared and according to the growers, makes no provision for the time for payment as the growers do not know when the company will order them to ship their beets. These changes brought about the most earnest discussion of the afternoon. It was stated that the beets shrink from two to thirteen percent in shipment due to delay in deliveries at the factory after being shipped and that this shrinkage would be lost to the growers.

In the former contracts the sugar factory stood this loss while under the proposed one for the present year, the growers would be the losers. The growers also complained that under the new contracts the farmers would have to harvest their beets and leave them in the fields until ordered delivered at the factory and the weighing as prescribed by company at the Western Railway Association at Janesville. Complaint was also made of the excessive taring during the past season.

In speaking for the sugar company Mr. Wool explained this taring process and how it happened to be greater this season than in former years. Beets to be tared are weighed first, then a sample is taken, washed, topped if not previously done so and then reweighed, the difference between the two weights being the basis of the payment to the grower. During the past season many crops of beets were harvested during wet weather and had excessive accumulations of dirt attached to them when delivered. This caused the decided difference in the weights.

Mr. Wool also expressed the wish of the sugar company to have the growers organize so that the details of all questions under dispute can be decided and adjusted between the officers and the sugar company and expressed a willingness to answer any questions that might be asked relative to the new contracts. The meeting then proceeded to affect a temporary organization, one member from each weighing station being named as a general committee to select a committee of seven who will act as a board of directors and elect its officers.

It was also decided to adopt by-laws and the following were passed upon and adopted:

First. The name of this organization shall be The Rock County and Neighboring Counties Beet Growers Association.

Second. Its object shall be the promotion and protection of the sugar beet growing industry.

Third. There shall be a board of directors consisting of seven members to be selected annually and it shall be their duty to elect officers for the organization.

Fourth. There shall be a board of directors consisting of a member of each weighing station with authority to select officers of the association and an executive committee of five.

Fifth. The members of the Rock County and Neighboring Counties Beet Growers' Association, shall not sign contracts to grow beets unless said contract has been approved by the executive committee.

There shall be an annual meeting held in December of each year. Special meetings may be held by the order of the president.

The fee for membership shall be fifty cents.

The following is the list of men appointed to represent each growing district who will elect the officers and perfect the permanent organization:

Milton—George Sayer.
Milton Junction—Mr. Hutchinson.
County Farm—Mr. Hemmingsway.
Brick Yards—Charles Johnson.
Hanover—John Martin.
Woodville—Alfred Voberg.
Footville—Herman Benish.
Clinton—George Florida.
Avalon—William Dean.
Factory—Mr. Cronin.
Beloit—Mr. H. Morgan.
Rockton—J. J. Walsh.
Hanson Siding—J. Coon.

It was also decided to hold a second meeting on January 28th at which time all beet growers will be invited to attend and unite themselves with the association. Other important business will also be handled at this meeting.

BOYS WIN PRIZES FOR RAISING CORN

Graham Fisher and Gayland Pierce Secure Awards at Poultry Show Exhibit.

Prof. A. L. Stone of the agronomy department of the state agricultural college who judged the exhibits of seventeen boys entered in the corn growing contest at the poultry show last week announced the two awards as follows: First prize, Janesville walking plow, to Graham Fisher, and second prize of three dollars in cash, to Gayland Pierce.

Interest in the contest was aroused two years ago through the agricultural department of the local high school. Two bushels of Silver King seed from the state agricultural college was distributed to ten boys of the county and 75 or more raised corn from this seed. Last year 150 boys were given samples and a much larger number is expected to interest themselves in this line of work during the coming season.

FORMER JANESVILLE MAN MANAGES RANCH IN UTAH

Richard McNeil is Successful in His First Venture of the Kind in Irrigation Region.

Word has been received by Miss Annetta McNeil, South Third street, from her nephew, Richard McNeil, formerly of this city, who is now a successful rancher in Utah county, Utah. Mr. Neil is managing a 100-acre farm for his uncle, Thomas McNeil, who is an engineer on the Colorado Midland railroad. The farm is in an irrigation district and has been made to pay for the first time under the management of Mr. McNeil although it was his first venture at that kind of work. During the past year he raised 75 tons of alfalfa, 700 bushels of oats and 400 bushels of wheat.

OFFICERS WERE INSTALLED BY THE ROYAL NEIGHBORS

Crystal Camp No. 132, Royal Neighbors of America last night installed its newly elected officers, Mrs. Sallie Lathers acting as installing officer and Miss Alice Mason as ceremonial marshal. The officers installed were: Oracle, Flora Skinner; vice oracle, Minnie Blou; chancellor, Rena Peterson; recorder, Alice Walton; receiver, Laura Coyne; marshal, Jennie Jones; assistant marshal, Irene Brecher; inner sentinel, Mary Birmingham; outer sentinel, Nellie Roach; Manager, Bertha Richter; physician, Dr. R. N. Sartell and Dr. Edith Bartlett. Musician, Edna Barriage. The oracle appointed the following characters: Faith—Bessie Wood; Courage—Edna Herrmann; Modesty—Bertha Quinn; Endurance—Nellie Flood; Unselfishness—Martha Codman. After the installation the neighbors and their friends enjoyed a dance.

EXPECT A VICTORY IN STOUGHTON GAME

League Schedule Opens, With Fast Basketball Game on Local Floor This Evening.

Tonight, at seven o'clock, at the high school gymnasium, the Janesville basketball team will clash with the fast five from Stoughton. Early last fall the locals won in football, and now the players from the neighboring city are after revenge. The game will be a good one, and Captain Falter predicts the locals at the top of a low score. The locals will have to fight from the start to overcome the attack of their opponents, but it is positive that there is no over-confidence prevailing with any member of the team. The game will begin right on the dot, so as to allow the crowd to witness the polo game at the rink at nine o'clock. This game tonight opens the schedule of the Southern Wisconsin Basketball League, in which both Stoughton and Janesville are members.

A preliminary game will be staged at the high school tonight in which the Rusk Lyceum and Forum Literary societies will be the contestants. The first half will begin before the big game, and then they will play a ten minute half between the intermission of the Stoughton game.

The line-up of the high school tonight will be as follows:

Atwood, R.; Edler, R.; Hemming, C.; Falter, (Capt.); Ryan, Ig.

LOCAL TEAM BEATEN BY ONE LONE POINT

Milton High School Team Plays Fast Basketball and Defeats White Sox Players, 18 to 19.

The Janesville White Sox basketball team, who played the Milton high school last night at Milton, were defeated by the score of 18 to 19. The game was very uninteresting as the Milton referee, Whittier, repeatedly called unnecessary fouls, causing a great loss of playing time. The Janesville team is used to playing a rougher game than the Milton players, and as they played the game without two of their best players they were seriously handicapped. The fast floor work and accurate passing of the Milton boys enabled them to beat the white Sox by a lone point. Lamphere, center for the Milton team scored the majority of their team by free throws.

The first half which lasted twenty minutes ended with the score of 10 to 9 in Milton's favor. Six of these points were made by Lamphere in free throws. In this half the locals were under the impression that they were playing the game under a set of rules originated for the girls.

The second half the white Sox endeavored to overcome the score and after scoring several field baskets they lost their lead because of the fouling. Time was called at the end of twelve minutes, the final score being 18 to 19. Janesville had a chance to tie the score by a free throw but failed in the attempt. Slickney proved a star for his team and Lamphere played the superior game for Milton. The white Sox defeated this team 38 to 16 in the early part of the season and another game will be arranged in the near future. The game with Evansville that was to have taken place tomorrow night has been canceled because of the loss of several players by injury.

This concert promises to be the best given by the Choral Union, so let everyone remember the date, February 11. Watch for further announcements next week.

AMERICAN BREEDERS ARE IN CONVENTION

Holding Sessions at University of South Carolina in Columbia—Wilson Gives Address.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 24.—The annual convention of the American Breeders' Association, which began its sessions at the University of South Carolina today, has attracted a large number of delegates from all sections of the country. The association meets in conjunction with the International Corn Exposition, which will be opened here next Monday.

The object of the American Breeders' Association, whose membership embraces nearly two thousand scientific and practical breeders, is unique. Its aim is improvement of the human race as well as animal and plant life. The animal breeders are endeavoring to breed a better class of horses; cows that will yield more milk and butter; meat animals that will yield steaks and chops more tender and better flavored; while the plant breeders are working for wheat that will yield finer flour and more of it; corn that will contain more protein; plants that will resist blight and the attacks of rust and smut; cereals that will flourish in spite of drought; fruits that will grow far North and flowers that will bloom all summer.

The program of the present convention has been prepared largely with the view of increasing knowledge of horse breeding and of either exploding or substantiating the numerous theories advanced on that subject. Other subjects such as animal and plant breeding in general and eugenics will be dealt with, but the discussion will center upon the horse.

President Mitchell of the University of South Carolina welcomed the delegates at the opening of the convention. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, president of the association, presided over the session and delivered an address.

The convention sessions will continue three days, the first two days being given over to scientific discussions and the last day to an inspection of the International Corn Exposition. Sunday morning the delegates will leave for Charleston in response to an invitation from the chamber of commerce of that city. Stops will be made at the Clemson college experiment station and at Summerville, where a visit of inspection will be made at the only tea farm in America.

NOT A SUCCESS.

The following despatch from Madison indicates that the people are not clamoring for state insurance, and the money invested in the enterprise is money wasted.

"The plan to give Wisconsin state insurance at cost promises to be a failure unless the legislature makes an appropriation for advertising expense or some higher rate of pay for solicitors.

"Although the state announced that it would receive applications on Nov. 1 for policies under the new plan there have so far only been twenty-five applications received, and it will take 1,000 applications accepted to make the state insurance project a fact.

"The commission of what amounts to little more than a notary fee for those who secure the applications does not aid in the securing of applications in competition with private insurance corporations."

The promoters of this visionary scheme succeeded in attaching a few new names to the payroll, and established a new expense account that is estimated at sixty thousand dollars a year.

There are two classes of salesmen, in this country, which have long led the procession. One, the lightning rod man; the other, the life insurance solicitor. No mail order house ever invades the field of either, because the personal equation, and knock-down hypnotic argument, are necessary to success.

If every bank in the state was made an agency for the State Life Insurance company, and people were invited to come in and buy, there would be nothing doing, because insurance isn't done in that way.

The state may have a right to engage in private business; that is an open question. But it has no right to waste the people's money in exploiting impractical schemes. The failure of state life insurance is not a surprise, and should have been self-evident to intelligent mind.

INFANT MORTALITY.

The city of Los Angeles, after a recent thorough investigation by its health board, announced the following thirteen "enemies of children":

- (1)—Doctors who don't report their cases of contagious diseases.
- (2)—Dirty milkmen.
- (3)—Flies.
- (4)—Tubercular cows.
- (5)—Persons who conceal contagious diseases.
- (6)—Hokey-pokey men.
- (7)—Reckless automobile speeders.
- (8)—Violators of quarantine.
- (9)—Manufacturers of adulterated candies.
- (10)—Manufacturers of adulterated foods.
- (11)—Child slavers.
- (12)—Parsimonious taxpayers who place the hoarding of money above measures for protection of child life.
- (13)—Mothers who needlessly deprive their babies of mother's milk.

The care of child life is attracting widespread attention, just now, and well it may, if the Los Angeles health board is correct in its findings.

The Wausau Record-Herald says: "If Wausau has no ordinance which will keep boys under eighteen out of pool rooms, and girls under sixteen off from the streets at night, one ought to be passed immediately. Conditions are getting serious." Many towns throughout the state are having the same trouble. Janesville, just now, is sitting on the lid, and hopes to be able to hold it down.

The Madison reformers are scrapping among themselves, and the "Mary Ann" measure is liable to emerge with an abbreviated costume. There are several other frills that might be toned down to advantage, and a few appropriations that will bear investigation. The university is in the market for another farm, and the taxpayers are interested to know something about the price.

Mexico still insists on keeping on the war map of the world by frequent outbreaks and rising of rebel bands in the vicinity of the race track at Juarez. Perhaps the rebels want to enjoy a few speed contests as well as the northern sports who crowd the track and its vicinity.

This Panama canal question has popped up again in congress and all sorts of "nice" things are being said pro and con the subject of who shall control its destinies—the United States, that spent the money, or some foreign power.

Governor McGovern does not mean to let the legal quibble of Ekern stop him from ousting that official from office and has engaged a special attorney to look after his interests in the matter at fifty per cent while he works.

Turkey has again broken over bounds and will resume the warfare unless some European power steps in and administers a good, hard, swift kick just where it will do the most good.

Congress is just now revising the tariff in whispers. A little later some member not on the inside will stand up in open meeting and ask what is being done about it all.

Governor Wilson is not a half bad advertisement for Princeton, but just think what a boom he will be when he is president in fact.

The customary flood of bills is now making its way into the legislative waste basket and but few will ever see the light of day outside the committee room.

Should the house of commons reject the suffrage bill John Bull is going to have serious trouble in getting his stockings darned for some time to come.

This is fine winter weather for everyone but the ice man. He does not enjoy it and would prefer a week of zero weather just now instead of nice thawing days.

The country has gone parcels post crazy and all sorts of things are being sent through the mails just for the fun of the thing.

Illinois is wondering if it was worth while to elect Dunne governor after all since he does not seem to be able to get into office.

PRESS COMMENT

Work on Suffrage.

Evening Wisconsin: Wisconsin women interested in equal suffrage are to meet at Madison tomorrow for the purpose of discussing a plan of campaign for the coming winter. One way of dealing with the situation would be to work for a bill like that of two years ago to be submitted to a referendum vote as was done at the general election last fall. The other would be to try to secure the first passage of a Constitution amendment resolution by the present Legislature. It is predicted that whatever the women favor will be likely to pass the Senate, and that the spirit of opposition will be hardest to overcome in the Assembly.

A Wisconsin Barricade.

Rockford Register-Gazette: The effort of the re-elected governor of Wisconsin to oust a La Follette supporter from a state office ended for the time being in failure, owing to the strength of the barricade erected by Ekern, the "deposed" insurance commissioner. The barricade, however, was more in the mind than in the material, having reference to the mental attitude of the aggressive member of the senate at Washington in that case the republican senate at Washington. In that case the republican senator won, over the governor who is coquetting with Oyster Bay.

Settling the Question.

Grant County Herald: The fair coeds at the University of Wisconsin have issued an edict that there are to be no more turkey trot, grizzly bear bunny hug, tango or chicken filly dances participated by students of that institution of learning. When the girls themselves decide that they will not take part in such dances that pretty near settles it. There are about 1200 young women students giving approval to this decision and any one of them found participating in the forbidden steps will be called upon the carpet.

Reversal of Sentiment.

Fond du Lac Reporter: Rock county has turned down the plan to build a county tubercular sanatorium. However, there is reason to believe that the developments of the next year or so are bound to cause a reversal of sentiment on the sanatorium matter and that one will finally be erected is probable.

Balancing Things Up.

Racine Journal-News: A late attack upon the Commission form of government says there are inherent defects in it, and yet admit there are some things very good. Balancing the thing up, the present municipal system contains far more defects than a commission form can possibly have.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

The Village Sleuth. The terror of the criminals is Uncle Jabez Hand.

He is the marshal of this town, we have you understand, He's built on Sherlock Holmes style.

Has old Sleuth beaten by a mile Nick Carter in his palmy days was never half so grand.

When any one spits on the walk, the marshal's right on deck. He rounds the evil doers up in record time, by heck.

He knows the ways of all the crooks. Enough to write a dozen books: When folks get smart around this town they get it in the neck.

When some one robbed the post-office of ninety cents in stamps. He was the hero of the hour and took in sixteen tramps.

They ate our grub for sixty days—The marshal has the village craze; He let the populace take turns a-lookin' at the scamps.

The clapper of the school house bell was missin' Tuesday last: The marshal took the mystery and solved it pretty fast.

He nailed Bud Smith and Willie Doe. Of course the marshal didn't know The janitor had sent it off to have a new one cast.

He pinches all the boys and girls for highin' onto sleighs.

And proves himself a mighty sleuth in many other ways.

The checker game is played no more. In William Tibbitt's grocery store. Since Ezra Flanks and Tibbitts got sent up for thirty days.

When Grandma Harkins lost a pie she'd set outdoors to cool. The marshal got upon the trail and pinched the grammar school. By taking all of them he did. Round up for sure the guilty kid. For real downright detective work he ain't nobody's fool.

From Hickeyville Clarion. There was quite a conflagration in the Hard Shell meetin' house last Sunday. Uncle Ezra Harkins leaned up agin' the stove and went to sleep. He was wearin' his celluloid collar at the time, it bein' Sunday, and Wide Awake Hose Company had considerable difficulty in extinguishing the angry element.

Several stained glass memorial windows was smashed by people jumping through them, and during the excitement, some party or parties answering the general description of Hod Peters, got away with the collection plate. Uncle Ezra says he is sorry he disturbed the meetin' but he is glad his hair was singed off as it will save him the price of a haircut.

It is gettin' pretty hard to get something for nothing and about the only thing you kin get that way is the measles.

In sympathy with the advance in pork, pig iron has gone up several cents. "Some people can't understand why they don't get any mail," said William Tibbitts, the gentlemanly and courteous postmaster at Hickeyville, who has been agile enough to change his politics always at the psychological moment and to keep the office from Hayes down to the present time. "I have had to stand here and argue for half an hour to convince a man that I haven't got a thing for him. Then he takes it out on me and after he gets through cussing he hands it to the administration."

"Then the same man will come in and get four or five running letters and hand it to me and the administration again."

"In addition to the chronic kicker we have the sweet young thing who asks us for lavender 2-cent stamps instead of red ones, claiming that the red ones don't match her stationery. When we convince her that we are all out of lavender stamps she takes a red one and then flicks because the stickum isn't flavored with vanilla instead of crushed raspberry."

Almost Too Much to Believe.

A gunner of the royal marines tells a story, says an English paper, of how a seagull rescued an exhausted linnet from the sea and deposited it on the deck of a warship. We can stand a good deal, but this story should, we think, have been told by its narrator exclusively to his fellow marines.

Heart to Heart Talks

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

THE HONOR OF A CONVICT.

In men whom men condemn as ill I find so much of goodness still. In men whom men pronounce divine I find so much of sin and blot. I hesitate to draw a line Between the two where God has not.

—Joanquin Miller.

Governor George W. P. Hunt of Arizona is making an experiment with his convicts.

He appeals to their honor. He treats them like human beings. He has abolished prison stripes, placed a wholesome sanitary environment about the prisoners, given them skilled physicians and dentists, encouraged them to organize an orchestra and glee club, made them feel that the prison officials are their friends and advisers, allowed each convict to stand on his own record and work out his own redemption and when liberties extended have not been abused has added other liberties.

Governor Hunt says that his system is "based chiefly on the principle of the square deal." He adds this noble sentiment:

"Prisoners are just as susceptible to kindly human treatment as are those people behind whom prison doors have never closed."

That warms the cockles of one's heart.

The glow increases when we learn that the new system works.

It has been in existence since last February. Few have betrayed the trust reposed in them. When a convict has a good record he is made an "honor man" and is placed in one of the road camps. Here he has no guard over him, but is on his honor not to escape. No firearms are allowed in the camps. There is an eight hour day, after which the men are free to read or amuse themselves. If they wish to take up some particular study or show some special aptitude they are helped.

Some of the honor men have been sent on missions, with a horse or automobile at their disposal. There is not a single case where convicts so trusted have broken their word by trying to get away.

In some cases where prisoners have proved unfaithful and attempted to escape from the camps the other prisoners have prevented.

The secret of the system is that incentives are placed before the men. They are rewarded for good behavior. If a family is depending on a convict he is allowed wages, which are sent to those waiting at home.

On last Christmas the Arizona convicts voluntarily sent to Governor Hunt a token of their gratitude.

He had opened the door of hope. He had trusted them. He had restored their faith in themselves.

And the goodness that dwells in the heart of every human being had responded.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Charities Meeting: The Associated Charities will hold a meeting at the city hall at three o'clock, Monday afternoon, January 27. By order of the secretary.

Hold Examinations: Semester examination for the senior English history class and the freshman physical geography were held at the high school this afternoon. Advanced algebra or political economy will be taken up by the seniors and physiology by the lower classmen next Monday.

Talks on Burns: John Arbuthnot of the high school faculty gave an interesting talk at the opening exercises this morning on Robert Burns and his works. He gave several interesting readings among which were "To a Mouse," "To a Daisy," and "To a Louse."

Visitors from Fond du Lac: John O'Brien, city electrician at Fond du Lac, and Joseph Lutzenberger of the Lutzenberger Construction Company, a member of the Light and Water commission of the same city, were callers at the city hall this morning and consulted with the city officers. They are securing data for a new street lighting contract to be made with the electric company at Fond du Lac.

Janesville Commercial Club: The annual meeting of the Janesville Commercial club will be held at the Alcyon hotel Wednesday evening, Feb. 13, at 7:15. A. P. Lovejoy, Pres.; Frank E. Lane, Gen. Secy.

Licensed to Wed: A marriage license was issued today to Andrew John Korsberg and Bertha Strey, both of Beloit.

Regulations.

On remarking some time ago that students cannot be driven anywhere by regulations, I was contradicted by the dean of another institution who insisted that by regulations they can be driven to the devil. I accepted the amendment.—President Lowell, in Harvard Graduates' Magazine.

The Death of Christ

By REV. WILLIAM EVANS, D. D.,
Director of Bible Course of the Moody
Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—Rom. 8:3-11

There is no profounder Scripture in the New Testament than this one, dealing as it does with the deepest truth of Christianity—the death of Christ. I. This text speaks to us of some one who died, it might seem at first sight as though there were nothing extraordinary in such a statement, for all men die. Yet it is extraordinary when we consider the person, character and history of the one who died. He was God and man, divine and human, Creator and creature. His life was absolutely flawless. If Enoch and Elijah left this world without passing through death, might not Christ have done likewise?

Further, this death is extraordinary when we consider that Christ could have avoided it. He knew all about the plots and plans that were laid for his arrest and death. He could have foiled them. Legions of angels were at his disposal. But he submitted to this death; therefore his sacrifice was a willing, voluntary sacrifice.

We must remember, too, that it was no ordinary death, for others have suffered as tragic and ignominious deaths as this. It was extraordinary, however, because of its relation to mankind and because of the person of the one who died. Jesus himself said that his death was a ransom for all men; the apostles claimed that he died the just for the unjust and for the sins of the world. This could not be said of the death of any other person in the world. Paul had seen Stephen die a martyr's death, but he did not associate forgiveness of sin with Stephen's death; yet this is what is claimed for the death of Christ.

II. The people for whom Christ died. They are described as sinners, ungodly, enemies. These terms are all-inclusive, descriptive enough to take in all the fallen and sinning ones of men. Speaking broadly, this text asserts that Jesus Christ died for the whole human race of sinners.

It is here, said, that he died for them, and by this is meant that he died in their stead and in their behalf. Some one may say "I did not need any one to die for me." But we know so little as to what was necessary to be done in our behalf; we are so ignorant concerning these things; our own reason can be trusted so little; that it is better for us to believe what Jesus and the Apostles say with reference to the necessity of Christ's death.

The death of Christ postulates that something infinite needed to be done for us. Had there been no dark, dire need, God would not have made the sacrifice of his son. It is clear from our text that Christ died to do for us what we, because we were weak and without strength, could not do for ourselves.

III. The purpose of Christ's death. First, we are justified by his death. The atonement provides the ground upon which a righteous God can pronounce a repentant sinner innocent, free, and treat him accordingly. This means that when a man acknowledges the claims of Jesus Christ, and submits himself to him as his personal savior, the guilt and penalty of his sin are removed forever. We may not understand or realize how this fact becomes a fact and yet we may realize it is a fact. Thousands use electricity every day who do not understand it. So we are told what is a great mystery—that because Christ died we who believe in him do receive absolution for our sins.

Second. We are reconciled to God through the death of Christ. Sin is a barrier between God and man. There can be fellowship between God and man only as this barrier is removed. Even the love of God cannot remove this barrier apart from the sacrifice of Christ. Again, we are not saved by understanding, but believing this great truth. Men may bask in the rays of the spring sunshine, and yet be ignorant of astronomy. All enmity existing between God and the sinner is removed by reason of the death of Christ. By believing in Christ the sinner who is an enemy of God becomes a friend of God.

Third. We are saved from wrath through Christ's death. The modern mind rejects the idea of wrath altogether and says it exists only in the minds of theologians. According to the scriptures, however, there is a wrath of God as well as a love of God. Love and wrath are not incompatible terms. God cannot overlook the wickedness of men; and since it is practically impossible to separate between the man and the sin that he cherishes, pain, wrath and anguish must be visited on the sinner. The death of Jesus Christ removes this wrath and the believer in him passes out of death into life, the penalty of the second death or the wrath of God shall not fall on him.

BILLS WILL EFFECT RAILROAD EMPLOYES

Limit to Number of Cars in Train, Regulation of Hours of Labor and Other Measures Proposed.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 24.—Railroad employees are having their demands presented to the legislature this year in the form of a number of bills covering rules for the safety of the work and the hours of employment. In the Senate a bill was presented by Senator Burke, which will come up for committee next week, which limits the number of freight cars that can be dragged in one train at sixty cars, exclusive of the engine and caboose. The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will ask the committee to cut this number to fifty cars.

Senator Burke has also introduced a bill providing that only fourteen consecutive hours of work be required of trainmen. At the present time the limit is sixteen hours. It is understood that the men sent here as legislative committees by the railway men intend to endorse this measure.

Assemblyman Hanson presented a bill yesterday requiring the railroad commission to designate how many men shall be required to operate a switching engine working in the yards. At the present time railroad yards are classified and in first-class yards three men operate with the switch-engine, and only two in second-class yards. It is claimed in some of the second-class yards the tracks curve so that more than two should be employed. Hanson's bill empowers the railroad commission to designate how many men shall be used while switching is being done in all of the yards.

Another measure that will be presented is aimed to require the railroad companies to pay their employees twice a month. They are now paid only once a month. Under a law enacted at the last session of the legislature railroad companies were permitted to collect an extra fare of ten cents of all persons who pay cash on the trains instead of buying tickets at the depot. Prior to that time it was the custom on the Milwaukee road, to charge ten cents extra, but the passenger was given a redeemable coupon that could be turned in for cash at any Milwaukee depot in the state. A bill will be presented to the legislature permitting the railroad companies to charge ten cents extra, but requiring them to give a redeemable coupon. It is said that the reason for making the extra charge for cash fares is to compel people to buy their tickets at the depot, so that no one can escape paying the rate of fare.

ST. PAUL EMPLOYEES HEAR SAFETY REPORT

Important Matters Regarding Protection of Life Discussed at Meeting Last Night—Morrison Talks.

At an important meeting of the St. Paul railway men last night the Safety committee gave its report and Mr. Q. Morrison, assistant superintendent of the Mineral Point division, chairman of the evening, told the men how each item of the report of the safety committee had been acted upon and all dangerous conditions along this division reported to him had been remedied as much as possible. A. W. Smullen of Chicago, chairman of the General Safety committee, then addressed the men on the importance of the safety-first movement, emphasizing that it was for the good of the employees that the movement was started, and not to save money, as some men have thought.

This movement towards safety needs only the co-operation of the men who will report the unsafe conditions to their local committee at their meetings and they will see that the men at the general committee take some action on their reports. Mr. Smullen read several letters received from men interested in this movement showing the true spirit towards the reducing of accidents.

The St. Paul has started this movement some time ago and already improvements are seen in the accident list. The dangerous parts of machinery in the shops have all been covered and reports show that while there were formerly three men injured every two days, now there has only been two hurt in the last month. Instructions were given to the men to report all released conditions to the part of any working men and the committee will see the careless men are properly instructed in the safety habit.

The railroad men discussed important items of safety and Mr. Morrison stated they will be given the committee's immediate attention. The danger of a serious accident to a train going over thirty miles per hour at the "five points" was discussed and "slow" boards were ordered which will cause the engineers to slow down to six miles. This is considered a wise precaution for many accidents have taken place here and the Janesville people will appreciate this move. Other equipment such as switch lights, brake-beams, brake-platforms, and ash-pans were discussed and how to remedy their defects was freely spoken on. The railroad men are well satisfied at the way the movement is progressing and hope to reduce the accident list to a minimum within a short time.

Cruel Form of Punishment.

A species of punishment, reminiscent of barbarism, was meted out a few days ago to a seven-year-old boy of Kiyosu, Japan, by the child's father. The little lad committed some trivial act of disobedience, and the father punished him by burying him for forty-eight hours in a hole in the ground, leaving only his head above the surface.

ROSA'S TUBERCULIN BILL HAS HEARING

Those Seeking Protection Against the Testing of Cattle Have Hearing Before Assembly Committee.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Jan. 24.—Owners of livestock interested in protecting their rights against statutory testing of cattle had their say before the assembly committee on agriculture yesterday afternoon. Hearing was held on the Rosa bill removing the time limit of June 1, 1913, until which date owners of cattle slaughtered after reaching to the tuberculin test may receive compensation. The bill leaves the time indefinite, or until such a date as a future legislature may see fit to make it definite. It also omits the maximum compensation now fixed at $50 per animal slaughtered, and provides that the appraised value of such animals shall not exceed $50.

Judge Rosa, who said he was one of the first livestock breeders in Rock county to use the tuberculin test, differed, he states, with some of his constituents on the tuberculin question. They objected because some animals are found not to have the disease but nevertheless must be slaughtered, and the owners get only half value in compensation.

Pay For All Slaughtered. Judge Rosa held firmly to the belief that the test should be none the less strictly applied to suspected herds, and as a remedy for cases of slaughter of non-diseased cattle, he championed the payment by the state of full value for cattle showing no lesions. He said a great deal of contagion may be traced to pure-bred animals, but that tuberculosis is common among all breeds. He condemned the feeding of beef of tubercular cattle to the hogs, saying that swine are fully as susceptible to contagion as cattle.

Assemblyman C. H. Everett, Racine, member of the state livestock sanitary board, told the committee that about 27 percent of cattle killed after reaching to the test show lesions, and that cattle often have tuberculosis in incipient form which it is hard to detect until the disease has infected others in the herd. He championed enforced testing for all cattle.

The Everett Bills.

The hearings by the committee on agriculture on the Everett bills for an appropriation for building a poultry building on the state fair grounds, and for a $35,000 dairy building, a $3,000 fish exhibit building, addition to executive buildings, streets and walks, poles and wires, a model rural school building, a $15,000 educational building, a shed for vehicles to cost $23,000; a $25,000 horse barn a $25,000 addition to the grandstand, and other improvements, were deferred indefinitely pending the outcome of the expected fight for removal of the state fair from Milwaukee.

SPECIAL CONFERENCE COMES IN FEBRUARY

Sunday School Workers to Meet in Janesville the First Part of February.

The first session will be held in the Baptist church Sunday, three p. m. and Feb. 2, with addresses by Dr. McElfresh and Miss Bailey. Sunday 7:30 p. m. mass meeting at Methodist church. Addresses by Dr. McElfresh and Rev. F. H. Brigham. The Monday sessions will be held in the Presbyterian church, 10:30—Rev. Brigham will conduct pastors' conference and Miss Bailey the elementary conference. 2:30—Addresses and conferences and lecture by State Secretary Rev. F. H. Brigham at 7:30 p. m. Monday. This work is conducted by the officers of the State Sunday school Association.

Wanted to Patent a Circus.

P. T. Barnum once came to the office to know if he could patent the three-ring circus. In technical parlance his three-ring circus was an aggregation and not a combination to produce a new result. Therefore it was not patentable, which information highly incensed the showman. "It will be adopted by every circus just as soon as I make it known," he declared. And it was.—From the Scientific American's "Ten Stories."

IMPORTANT PUBLIC WORKS ARE COMMENCED IN MEXICO

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Coatzacoalcas, Mexico, Jan. 24.—Actual work was commenced today on two important projects having to do with the development of the plans of the Mexican government for the development of the country's commercial and shipping industries. One of the projects is the building of a mammoth government dry dock in Coatzacoalcas. The other is the dredging of the at the mouth of the harbor at Salina Cruz, which work when completed will permit the largest vessels to enter the Pacific port of the isthmus of Tehuantepec.

EXPRESS COMPANIES READY FOR CHANGES

American Express Company Issues Orders to its Local Agent Relative to Parcels Post.

For the information and guidance of the company's employees, we print herewith the substance of an article which will appear in the January President's Office Circular.

Through the fuller installation of the government parcels post on January 1, 1913, a new system, for which there seems to be a demand, has entered the transportation field, affording the public an additional service on shipments of eleven pounds and less which at no time in the past has this company opposed nor will it in the future. This policy must be strictly maintained by our officials and employees by refraining from any attitude unfriendly to or of criticism of the parcels post, devoting their time and attention towards the continued development of the efficiency of the company's service to the public. With its enormous resources and vast commercial interests, this country is large enough for both express companies and the parcels post. Each will serve the public in its respective capacity, and the conclusion can safely be drawn that the shipping community will carefully consider the benefits to be derived from the service rendered by both systems, utilizing that which best meets their requirements.

From a very small beginning in the year 1841, the business of the American Express Company has grown and developed until today it is an important factor to the commercial interests of the country in respect of its forwarding facilities and in a multitude of other different directions, which virtually embrace the execution of all legitimate commercial and financial transactions requiring personal representation on behalf of our patrons.

The company will continue to give its patrons a service that will meet their needs—simple, efficient and complete in all details, with the assurance of increased facilities as fast as the growth of traffic and business interests require it and the hope that our efforts will meet with the co-operation of our many customers.

MAKES RHEUMATISM PROMPTLY DISAPPEAR

Chronic, Crippled-up Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses of New Remedy are Taken.

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can surely avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood, the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibly cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone does this, because it neutralizes and dissolves all the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, so they filter all the poison from the blood, and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles, and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all your misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first class drug store. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst back-ache or overcome urinary disorders.

ALABAMA WILL CELEBRATE ADMISSION ANNIVERSARY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 24.—A special tax to defray the expenses of the Alabama Centennial Exposition, which it is proposed to hold in 1913 in celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of Alabama's admission to the Union, was recommended in a report submitted today by a special committee that has investigated the question. Governor O'Neal is expected to recommend a constitutional amendment which will be necessary before such a tax can be levied. The exposition probably will be held in Birmingham.

MEXICA CITRUS GROWERS TO FORM AN ASSOCIATION

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Tampico, Jan. 24.—The organization of a permanent association of citrus fruit growers of Mexico is the purpose of a three days' conference which will begin here tomorrow. Many of the leading fruit growers of the Tampico territory have already arrived to attend the meeting. The proposed association, according to the statements of its promoters, will take steps to eradicate all scales and disease affecting trees and fruit and try to prevent the United States from enacting a law prohibiting the importation of Mexican fruit and trees since the increased acreage here will in a few years produce more fruit than the home market can consume, and foreign markets will be essential.

COUNTY SANATORIUM MATTER IS REVIEWED

M. P. RICHARDSON SAYS THERE HAS BEEN MISUNDERSTAND-ING IN REGARD TO PROPOSITION.

QUOTES FROM THE LAW

Which Shows That County Hospital
Would Be for Indigents in Secondary Stages and Not for Incipient Cases.

M. P. Richardson of this city, member of the county board from the second ward, in a communication to the Gazette reviews the entire matter of the tuberculosis sanatorium which was threshed out before the county board at its recent meeting. Mr. Richardson was one of the leaders in the fight against the proposition and in his statement declares that there has been considerable misunderstanding as to the exact situation. He seeks to correct this by the following:

Editor of the Gazette,
Dear Sir:—
This quotation from the Beloit News in your editorial in the Gazette of Monday, Jan. 20th, is founded on a misconception of the law relating to county tuberculosis sanatoriums: "It was shown that many lives are being sacrificed each year needlessly by means of prevention or cure in the early stages of the disease by such a sanatorium as was asked for."

To Correct Misunderstanding.
The Gazette has furnished first-hand, very fair and discriminating reports of the county board proceedings and, therefore, there might be no excuse for sending you this lengthy communication were it not for the fact that the morning paper was published articles on this subject showing the same misunderstanding as to the law that is exhibited by the Beloit News and has declined to publish some corrections of its account of the board's proceedings. The public, therefore, have been misinformed regarding the situation. I trust that you will grant me space to show the purpose of the different sanatoriums and the present situation relative to the same in this county.

Everyone will concede that it is necessary first to know what the law authorizes before the subject of sanatoriums before determining what is advisable to do. There seems to be a popular notion that the county can build a sanatorium for the cure of persons afflicted with consumption in its incipient stage. This is not true. The only public sanatorium for this class of people is the state institute at Wales. In order that there may be no doubt as to the class of persons who may be admitted to the county sanatorium, and the class of persons who are admitted to the state sanatorium, I make the following quotations from the laws relating to this subject:

Quotes Law in Case.
There is hereby established a sanatorium known as the Wisconsin State Tuberculosis Sanatorium for the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis, especially for cases in the incipient stages of this disease." Section 1421-1 Wisconsin Statutes of 1911.

"All persons affected with pulmonary tuberculosis in the incipient or slightly advanced stage may be admitted to said hospital, but preference shall be given to those suffering from the disease in the incipient form." Section 1421-7.

"The county board of supervisors of any county may, with the consent of the state board of control, purchase a site and establish or provide a building or shack, for the treatment of persons suffering from tuberculosis, in the advanced or secondary stages." Section 1421-4-1.

"Any indigent person suffering from tuberculosis in the secondary or advanced stages, who shall have been a resident of the state for at least one year, shall be received into the institution within the limits of its capacity, as determined by the board of control." Section 1421-12.

Compares With Insane.
"Any person, not indigent, suffering from tuberculosis in the secondary or advanced stages, who shall have been a resident of the state not less than one year, may be received into any institution, provided for by sections 1421-9 to 1421-16 inclusive, (the county sanatoriums) and cared for at a rate which shall not exceed the actual cost of maintenance therein; provided, that before admission he shall furnish to the superintendent of the institution a certificate of a regularly licensed physician that he is suffering from tuberculosis in the secondary or advanced stages." Section 1421-14-1.

It appears from the foregoing quotations that the state sanatorium commonly known as the Wales Sanatorium bears a somewhat similar relation to the county sanatoriums that the State Hospital for the Insane at Mendota bears to the county insane asylum. The state hospital is for insane persons who are still considered curable, whereas, the county institutions are for chronic cases which are seldom relieved, so the state Sanatorium at Wales is for tuberculosis in the "incipient" or slightly advanced stage preferably in the incipient form, while the county sanatoriums exclude all persons who are afflicted with the disease in its incipient form. But a small percent of those in the secondary and advanced stages are cured. It, therefore, follows that the primary purposes of the county institutions must be for instruction and isolation of the patients.

For Indigents First.
Furthermore the foregoing quotations from the law show that the sanatorium would be primarily for indigent patients and others could not get in unless the applications from indigent patients should not exceed the capacity of the institution. Therefore, the question before the county board was this: Should Rock county establish a sanatorium for indigent persons afflicted with tuberculosis in the secondary or advanced stage?

The physicians of Rock county were asked whether they were in

"THE PLAY'S THE THING," MANAGERS
SAID; BUT THE PUBLIC WON'T AGREE

Viola Allen.

That the theater-going public will not stand for the featuring of the play rather than the stars who make it a success has just been illustrated in New York. Following their policy that "the play's the thing," the Liebler Company announced at the opening of the season in New York that "The Daughter of Heaven" would be advertised as an attraction for its own sake, and not for the sake of the actors in favor of a sanatorium or not. A great majority of those who answered replied that they were, more than a third did not answer including some of our ablest and most experienced physicians. But they were not told that the inmates of the sanatorium would be limited to the class above mentioned; therefore, we can not tell whether or not they are in favor of a sanatorium authorized by law. The two official county physicians, who have most to do with indigent patients, stated that there was no need of a sanatorium for such patients and if it was decided to provide a special accommodation for them, it could easily be done at a small expense by constructing some isolated wards at the county house; that in their opinion the home was the best place for such patients.

The special committee who had investigated the subject, advised the board to establish a sanatorium to accommodate sixteen persons at an initial cost of $20,000 with an estimated maintenance cost of $6,500 not including repairs of the buildings. The instruction given in such an institution could perhaps be given elsewhere, if such a sanatorium is necessary for the purpose of isolating the patients, it would logically follow that this building accommodating sixteen persons would soon have to be quadrupled, thus accommodating sixty-four persons and still would take care of less than one-fourth of the total number of persons afflicted with this disease, as according to the committee's figures there are nearly three hundred such persons in the county.

The county has no money now in the treasury and has borrowed all that it can borrow, to tide over the portion of this year that must elapse before the tax money will come in, and the appropriations for 1913 are only sufficient to pay the correct expenses.

Thought Better to Wait.
There are only two county sanatoriums in this state in actual operation, one in Milwaukee which is a densely populated county to furnish an example for this county, the other in Douglas county concerning which the board was not given any information. Several other counties have voted to establish sanatoriums including Racine county and the board thought it better to wait the results of their experience before taking any action in the premises.

Miss Tate, the representative of the state sanatorium, said that the ideal method for caring for such pa-

DINNER STORIES

They were experts in many things, but chiefly in the art of bragging. And at the moment they were discussing their own wonderful feats as vocalists.

"Why," said the American, blowing rings of smoke from his cigar, "the first time I sang in public the audience simply showered me with bouquets. Bless you, there were enough to start a flower-shop."

"Faith, an' I can beat you!" cried the Irishman. "The first time I sang was at an open-air concert, and, be-jorra, the audience were that delighted they presented me with a house, they did!"

"A house! You must be off your head!" interrupted the American scoffingly.

"Not at all," answered Pat. "I tell ye that they gave me a house—but it was a brick at a time!"

It was early in the history of the new household. "What have we got for breakfast, dear?" asked Mr. Just-married. His wife looked at him with troubled eyes. "It was to have been bacon," she said. "But poor cook's burnt it." "Poor cook! I should think so, indeed!" exclaimed Mr. Justmarried. "Confound her! Have you given her notice?" "Oh, no; we mustn't be cross with her, darling," said his wife. "She's so young and inexperienced. Won't you be satisfied with a kiss for breakfast?" she coaxed archly. "All right, dear," replied Mr. Justmarried, suddenly pacified. "Call her in."

At an advertising man's banquet in Denver, Dr. H. Wood Avery, the author of many advertising monographs, ended an address with this story. "The power of the 'ad,'" he said, "is truly miraculous. I know a young actress who mislaid a string of pearls. She inserted a 'lost and found' advertisement and the next day I asked her: 'Well, did you get your pearls back?' 'Yes,' she answered—and isn't advertising wonderful? The string I lost were only scientific, but those that have been returned to me are the real thing."

Land of "Damned Professors."

It can hardly be doubted that could Lord Palmerston have seen what I have seen of the changes in Germany, he would at least have placed the "damned" in another part of his famous sentence. These professors have turned their prowess into channels which have given Germany, in this scientific industrial age, a mighty grip upon something more than theories.—Price Collier in Scribner's.

BRAKEMAN IS KILLED IN FALL FROM TRAIN

Charles O'Neil of Madison, Escapes Falling Underneath Wheels But Dies From Shock—Sister in Janesville.

Charles O'Neil, a Northwestern brakeman residing at Madison, died late yesterday afternoon as the result of falling from the train on which he was returning home after a visit with his sister, Mrs. Joseph Kopp, who lives at 320 North High street, this city. The accident occurred just as the train was entering the city. O'Neil was standing between two coaches when the train suddenly lurched and he was thrown off, barely missing the wheels of the next coach.

The conductor was a witness to the accident and quickly pulled the engine back, bringing the train to a stop. The train crew hurried to the prostrate form of O'Neil, expecting to find him badly mangled, but found no signs of external injury. He died, however, a short time after being picked up. A post-mortem examination showed that death resulted from heart failure, believed to have been caused by the shock and excitement.

Mrs. Kopp was promptly notified of the death of her brother and at once went to Madison to console her parents over the death of their son. O'Neil had often visited in Janesville and had a considerable acquaintance here.

It's well to be writing a book, or painting a tree and a brook; but, Elizabeth Ann, if you'd please sort it out, I know you're a peach and a beauty at playing the harp and the flute, but the man that you wed will expect to be fed on beefsteak, potatoes and fruit. So many, Elizabeth Ann, can paint on a vase or a fan; so many can sing like the birds in the spring; so few can do things with a pen! So many sweet maidens can take a box and some ribbons and make a nice rustic clock that would please Mr. Bore—and so few can get busy and bake! So many can stand and recite the rhyme about curfew tonight! But where is the maid who can make marmalade, or mix up a salad just right? I can't eat a chromo, my dear, and a book tastes exceedingly queer; when I'm empty I long not for sonnet or song, but for well-roasted chunk of a steer. The housekeeper girl is a genius, the girl who can bake, stew and heat! The girls who can play on pianos all day—there's never a shortage of them!

Hers and Zekle and George Penner went after some cattle one day last week, which the former bought near the four mile bridge east of Leyden.

Remember the English services at the Evangelical church next Sunday.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

WEDDINGS.

(By Howard L. Rannu.)

A wedding is a solemn high-priced function which is pulled off at the expense of the bride's father, who is not consulted about anything except the bills. After a stern, rock-bound parent with several marrying-age daughters has been led up to an itemized bill covering six voluptuous weddings, including hack hire and overhead expenses, he will not have breath enough left to sing the long nuptial doxology.

A generally understood, wed-dings are supposed to be the climax to a courtship. At times, however, they prove to be an anti-climax, in which event the bride's father has to ante again for the attorney fees.

There is nothing nicer than a wedding which is so arranged that the contracting parties remain on speaking terms down to the last lap. If more people would pick out weddings of this kind, the divorce docket would look like a subdivision paper for the benefit of good roads.

There are two kinds of weddings—church and home. There is also the justice of the peace variety, which will sew a reluctant groom up as tight as any other, but at less expense. The church wedding is never used except by people who are either in society and trying to secure a better grip or by those who are candidates for the first degree. It is a painful scene, especially when the groom finds that he has left the ring in his other pants or the best man runs one lot through the bridesmaid's train, and is performed to pipe organ accompaniment at so much per running foot.

The home wedding can be enjoyed at slight trouble and expense, as all that is necessary is to put up the curtains in the front parlor and dust off the wax floral wreath. The guests at this kind of a wedding are able to get a good view of the groom at close range and note whether he has removed the price tags from his new suit. They can also tell whether the bride is trimmed in real lace or an imitation of shredded excelsior. The home wedding turns out a very durable knot, and assays a small percentage of family jars, hence it has come to stay.

SNAPSHOTS BY BARBARA BOYD

Regaining a Husband's Affections

I STOPPED in to see my wash-lady today," said the young married woman, as she joined a group of friends at the club. "Poor soul. She's been sick. And I thought I'd run down and see what was the matter."

"She's a very good washwoman, isn't she?" remarked one of the women.

"Yes, she is. But that was not the only reason I hunted her up," replied the young married woman with a twinkle in her eye. "I really would have been glad to help her if anything serious was the matter. But it seems the root of the trouble was her husband. His sickle fancy has been wandering elsewhere, or she thought it had, which so far as she was concerned was the same thing. And she had been quite broken up over it. But when I got there today, she was quite cheerful."

"Resigned, I suppose," observed one.

"No," said another. "She'd made the pleasant discovery that life could be still very enjoyable without him."

"What cynic!" laughed the young married woman. "If I didn't know you all perfectly adore your husbands, I might become pessimistic about marriage. No, she wasn't radiant because of any of these things, but because she had found a way to regain her husband's affections."

"What was it?" asked all the women with sudden interest.

"Your curiosity is suspicious. But I am afraid you will not have much faith in her method. She had been to a fortune-teller, and this woman had told her that all that was the matter was her name; that she had the wrong name; and that if she would change her name from Mary to Anna, all would come right. Mary, it seems, is an unfortunate name for all but a very few people. And so she had decided to change her name, and already her skies were blue."

The other women looked disgusted.

"Yes," said the young married woman, noting their expressions. "It is perfectly idiotic. But isn't it a pity she believes such stuff and is going to lie down, so to speak, on what the fortune-teller told her and do nothing more. I hinted to her that I didn't see any reason why that should win back her husband's affections. I told her that he had probably loved her in the beginning, not because of her name, but because of certain qualities in her. And I intimated as tactfully as I could, that if she possessed these qualities now, he would probably continue to love her. I impersonally remarked that men liked neatness in a woman,—she's a terrible frowsy individual,—and an attractive home,—her house is a sight. I don't wonder he is wandering. But she was perfectly deaf to everything I said, didn't even think it worth listening to. She sat there complacently rocking, quite sure that everything would be all right now that she had changed her name. Now what in the world can you do with a person like that?"

"Perhaps when she finds that the fortune-teller's charm doesn't work, she'll remember what you said."

"I doubt it. What I told her was so commonplace and ordinary, that it made no appeal to her. If I could have said it up in some sort of ornate or unusual garb, then it might have made an impression."

"Or," suggested another, "if the fortune-teller had only linked the change of name with some such practical advice, and made her understand that the change of name meant she must change herself as well, in these matters, and that it would produce no results unless she did; then, I have an idea, she would have made herself and her home, as well as her name, different."

"That sort of fortune-telling would have its use, wouldn't it?" remarked the young married woman thoughtfully. "To make an impression on some people, you have got to profess occult powers, and get yourself up in the flowing robes of a seeress, and wrap up the good, sensible advice you want to give them, in tinfoil, decorated with gold stars, or they won't receive it." Well, if I try to help her again, I'll throw in the tinfoil."

The Evening Chit-Chat BY RUTH CAMERON

THE IMPOSSIBILITY OF REPEATING.

HAVE you ever noticed how impossible it is to repeat in this world? We had the most delightful gathering the other evening. Half a dozen congenial people chanced to drop in, and the talk somehow turned to spiritualism and hypnotism and all the other fascinating "isms" of that twilight world where the known and the unknown meet. We sat about the open fire, munching apples and nuts and comparing theories and experiences, swinging from laughter to awe and back again half a dozen times. The clock striking eleven found us firm in the belief that it could not yet be ten.

As the guests put on their wraps to depart, Mollie, the little stenographer-lady, cried out to the hostess, "It's been such fun, let's do it again. May we all come again some evening soon and have the apples and nuts and talk about exciting things the way we did tonight?" Having been granted the hostess' permission, Mollie appealed to the others to choose an evening when they could all come. An evening was duly chosen, each guest solemnly promised to come, and Mollie went away triumphant, assuring herself and everyone else that it would be "such fun to have it all over again just the same."

But all the time I knew it wouldn't be just the same because it never is, no matter how hard you try to make it.

And it wasn't. When the appointed evening came, the jolliest guest was ill, and the best story-teller had been called out of town on business. Furthermore it was much too warm to really enjoy an open fire. Thirdly, an exciting event had occurred in our little circle of acquaintances and the talk clung persistently around that and refused to be lead off into the realms of the mystic. We sat uncomfortably about the fire for almost an hour like a spiritualist waiting vainly for his "control," until it was finally borne in, even upon Mollie, that things were not as they should be. The seance broke up in a jolly game of whist, capped with a midnight chafing-dish. We had a thoroughly good time, but it certainly wasn't the same, any more than sun light is the same thing as moon light or fire light.

And that's the way it always is when we try to repeat. Surely you also have tried to repeat some enjoyable vacation, some happy holiday, some interesting evening, and found how impossible it is. You may have had as pleasant a time—that is, if you don't let yourself be troubled by regrets for the former occasion,—but you won't have the same kind of a time. By some rare chance you may possibly be able to collect the same people, but even if you do accomplish that miracle, the atmosphere will surely be different.

Life is a kaleidoscope: each day is a turn that presents a new combination. All the king's horses and all the king's men cannot prevail to bring back a combination that has been destroyed.

So don't try to repeat. It doesn't pay. Just enjoy each new combination to the fullest and let it go at that.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To Keep Sausage.—Get tall half gallon jars. Take fresh stuffed sausage, jag with fork and pack in crock, making nearly even full. Set in moderate oven and fry three hours. Sausage that has not been stuffed can be packed in jars and fried in same manner. When cool, cover with melted lard, tie paper over crocks and set in dry, cool place, but where it will not freeze. This will keep all through the summer and is like fresh.

Cake Frosting.—In Cream Frosting, cream one tablespoon butter into one teaspoon sugar. Add one teaspoon vanilla extract. Add well-beaten white of one egg. This will never be so hard that it will crack, or soft enough to be sticky. Bolton Frosting.—Beat stiff white of one egg. Boil one cup white sugar until it will roll around in soft ball in cold water; pour slowly into egg, beating it until it thickens; spread on cake.

Caramel Frosting.—Two cups light brown sugar, one-half cup butter, one-half cup sweet milk. Boil till a little hardens in cold water. Take from fire and beat until it begins to grain. Cocoa Frosting.—One cup powdered sugar, one-half cup cocoa, one whole egg; put in bowl and beat. Very good.

Correction

In the "Nut Cup Cakes" recipe published in Monday's paper, I notice I forgot to put "one cup of brown sugar." Please add that to the recipe.

Three Good Cakes.

Burnt Sugar Cake.—Put one cup granulated sugar in the minute pan and cook stirring constantly until a rich chocolate color. Add one cup boiling water and cook to a thick sirup. Set aside to cool while making the cake. (This amount of burnt sugar or caramel is sufficient for two cakes.)

Beat to a cream a scant half cup butter (or other shortening) and a cup and a half sugar. Add yolks of two eggs well beaten. One cup cold water and 2-1/2 cups flour sifted three times with two teaspoons baking powder. Flavor with half teaspoon vanilla and about three tablespoons burnt sugar. Lastly fold in basin whites of two eggs. This will make three good sized layers. For filling and icing I use powdered sugar moistened with milk and burnt sugar, making it a rich tan color.

Scripture Cake.—Four and one-half cups—1 Kings, 4: 22.

One cup—Judges, 5: 25 (last clause).

Two cups—Jeremiah, 6: 26.

Two cups—1 Samuel, 30: 12.

Two cups—Nahum, 3: 20.

One tablespoon—Numbers, 17: 8.

One tablespoon—1 Samuel, 14: 25.

Two teaspoons—Amos, 4: 5.

Season to taste—2 Chronicles, 9: 9.

Six—Jeremiah, 17: 11.

A pinch—Leviticus, 2: 13.

Solomon's prescription for making a good boy—Proverbs, 23: 14.

This could be made for a church supper and the recipe typewritten and sold at 5 cents a copy.

Things Worth Knowing.

Always salt onions before putting in pan, then they are not burnt so easily.

Use elastic corset laces for children's rompers, bottom of waists, etc., far superior to either the cord or flat elastic as they will outwear the garment.

In mixing flour for thickening, always use warm water and you will not have any trouble with lumps.

HOT WINTER PUDDINGS.

A simple cranberry pudding which is delicious and needs no sauce, is this: Prepare a batter of a cup of flour sifted with a teaspoonful of baking powder and a little salt dropped on boiling hot cranberries while they are stewing. The berries should be sweetened and the batter dropped in small heaps, then cover and cook for twenty minutes, carefully covered.

Steamed Cranberry Pudding.—Cream half a cup of butter, add a cup of sugar gradually and three eggs well beaten; mix and sift three and a half cups of flour with two teaspoonsful of baking powder, and add to the first mixture alternately with a half cup of milk, then stir in a cup and a half of cranberries and steam three hours. Serve with thin cream flavored with nutmeg.

Ginger Pudding.—Cream a third of a cup of butter, add a half cup of sugar and one egg well beaten; mix and sift the dry ingredients, which are two and a fourth cups of flour, three and a half teaspoonsful of baking powder, a little salt, two teaspoonsful of ginger, with a cup of milk, adding a little of the milk and a little of the flour mixture until all are used. Turn into a buttered mold and steam two hours. Serve with.

Vanilla Sauce.—Mix together a half cup of sugar, a tablespoonful of cornstarch, and when mixed add a cup of boiling water. Cook until thick and clear and five minutes more, then add two tablespoonsful of butter, a tablespoonful of vanilla, and serve.

Graham Pudding.—Melt a fourth of a cup of butter, add a half cup of molasses, a half cup of milk, one egg well beaten, a cup and a half of graham flour, a half teaspoonful of soda, a teaspoonful of salt and a cup of raisins cut in pieces. Steam two and a half hours and serve with any preferred pudding sauce.

Changing Nature Indirectly.

You are constantly assured that you cannot change human nature; that you cannot make people over by process of law. But if you cannot reform men by reforming the conditions that make men what they are, how is it that you can so easily debauch and degrade them by reversing the process?—Collier's Weekly.

dressing. Another supper may consist of oysters a la Castille.
Finger Roll Sandwiches.
Pineapple whip.
Almond sponge cakes
Coffee.

Oysters prepared in this way have all of the flavor retained. Open the oyster and lay on top a tiny piece of bacon, celery, salt, paprika and chopped pimientos. Stand under the broiler until the bacon is a nice brown. Serve on a large platter in the shells with parsley and lemon.

Split the finger rolls; scoop out a hollow place and fill with well seasoned cream cheese, nuts and mayonnaise put together. Another menu:

Creamed Eggs.
Lettuce Sandwiches.
Stuffed celery.
(With Roquefort and cream cheese)
Olives.
Coffee.

Hard boil the eggs. When ready to serve make a good rich cream sauce and add one pimiento cut in strips. Cut the eggs in halves lengthwise and lay in the sauce until well heated through.

French toast with cheese is delicious. Cut the crusts from slices of bread, not too large; add a little flour and four tablespoonsful of milk to one well beaten egg; dip each slice in the mixture; slice cheese and put in between, having the two sides not dipped placed next to the cheese. Sauté in the pan in butter until a nice brown turn and brown the other and the cheese will be melted. Serve on hot plates.

There are so many dishes for these suppers which can be made from oysters, mushrooms, peas, sweetbreads, rarebits and cheese dishes of all kinds that it really means choosing the best and most seasonable of these and preparing them quickly and with the least possible effort.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Can you give me a recipe for Graham Pancakes?

Graham Pancakes.—In 1-2 cup baking water dissolve 1-2 cake compressed yeast. "Later in the evening put 1 quart water in gallon crock with a pinch of salt and the dissolved yeast. Stir in Graham flour enough to make a stiff batter. In the morning put 1 pint water in an extra dish with 1-2 teaspoon soda dissolved in it. From the crock dip out enough batter to make right consistency for cakes when mixed with the pint of water and soda. Bake half cup of batter in the crock each time as a "starter" for the next setting. Reset every night (not using any more yeast) by adding water and a little salt and graham flour, same as at first.

If any of the batter is left after baking cakes, do not put it back in the crock as the soda will sour the "starter."

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a man of 40 and have been going with a young lady who is a trained nurse for four years. I would like to marry her, but haven't the nerve to ask her. I am a professional man and well to do. Please advise.

IN DOUBT.

Write to her something like this: "Dear Miss So-and-So:—I am sending you this simply because I haven't the nerve to say it to you. I love you very dearly and want you for my wife. Do you care enough for me to put up with me for the rest of you life? I'll try my level best to make you happy? Please answer right away and if I may hope you will find that my basfulness is entirely cured. Yours devotedly—"

VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA

Don't forget to sign your name and address.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of 18 and in love with a young man who comes to see my sister. He seems to think a great deal of me. Must I leave him and her alone or can I take him away from her? She is just wild about him? He went with me three or four times first, but I was going with another fellow and did not seem to care much for him, so he went with her. ANXIOUS. I'm afraid that the only reason you think you love him now is because he likes your sister and she likes him. Better find another fellow.

Natural Question. "I am so very fond of music," said Miss Kittish, as she swung herself round on the piano stool and faced Mr. Harkins, after thrumming away for half an hour for his entertainment. "Ah!" replied the young gentleman thoughtlessly. "Why don't you take lessons?"—Stray Stories.

CLEANS THE HAIR AND MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

In a Few Moments Your Hair Looks Soft, Fluffy Lustrous and Abundant—No More Fallair Hair or Dandruff—Delightful Dressing.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanser" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through the hair, taking one small strand at a time, this will cleanse the hair of dust or any excessive oil—in a few moments you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of Dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

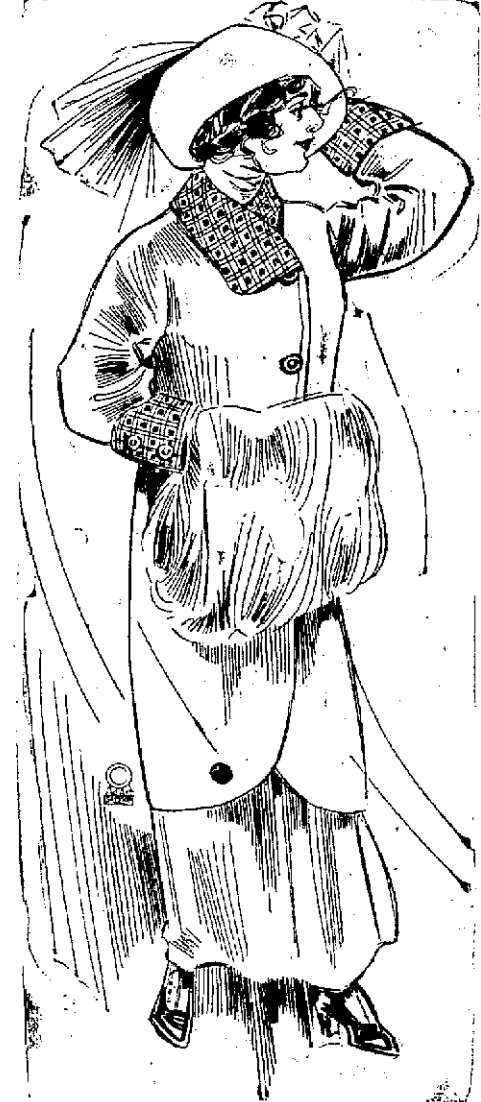

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating, and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft lustrous hair and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of "Danderine" from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

Baking Helps

Learn to Regulate the Heat of Your Oven

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

There is just one way to make your cakes rise high and keep an even surface. Have your oven moderate at first, until the cake is fully risen; then increase the heat, so as to brown it over quickly. Extreme heat stiffens the dough. If you stiffen the outside of the cake before the rising is complete, you stop the rising process. Then the leavening gas, forming inside, will bulge up the center, where the dough is still soft, and spoil the shape of the cake.

None.—Discards or pastries made from stiff dough, that are cut into shapes for the oven, bake in hot oven. This is because the cut surfaces of the dough do not seal over, but rather leave the pores open, allowing the leavening gas to escape and the heat to penetrate readily. Small ovens cook quickly; therefore they should be made several degrees hotter than a larger oven, and the less the door is opened the better. Do not attempt to bake bread and pastry together. Bread requires prolonged, moderate baking—pastry the reverse.

Have a strong underheat for baking powder preparations, especially pastry.

These are only a few of the many baking helps found in the K C Cook's Book—a copy of which may be secured by sending the colored certificate taken from a 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the Janesville Mfg. Co., Chicago.

JANET RICHARDS FURNISHES GRAY MATTER TO SOCIETY WOMEN OF EAST, AT HANDSOME PRICES.

Miss Janet Richards.

By Robert F. Wilson.

Washington.—Nothing is ever scheduled for Monday morning in Washington—nothing fashionable that is. Club and church committee meetings are set for some other time, and it is the dull, quiet period of the week in the shops of the fashionable modistes and milliners. Every Monday morning the feminine portion of the capital's smart set turns out to hear the news of the week told by Janet Richards. It is a custom of sixteen years' duration.

You might call Miss Richards a human newspaper. Her business is to read the news of the World, sort out in her capable and energetic brain what is vital in national life, and retail it weekly to four thousand society women in Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

Supplies Gray Matter.
She supplies brains to women who are too busy or too indolent to use their own, or who haven't any to use. And, as in any business which supplies brains to those able to buy that rare commodity, Miss Richards makes the wealthy pay heavily for the use of her brains. Each week her lecture rooms are crowded twelve times at admission prices which would do credit to an operatic prima donna. This exceptional Washington woman has been able to capitalize the ignorance of smart society and to use it for a niche in which to carve out a unique and highly lucrative career.

"Most people read newspapers and magazines so carelessly and with so little discrimination that they mistake the chaff for the wheat in the news," said Miss Richards to me just after she had concluded an exhausting hour and a half before a company of half a thousand wives and daughters of senators, cabinet officers and other public men. "They devour the details of the latest crime or scandal and skip entirely the really important news, such as the preliminaries in the framing of a new tariff or the activities of the money trust investigation."

"It is my business to sort out from the news the things that are worth while, and the things which women newspaper readers ordinarily skip, and to point out their significance to my pupils."

"I try to show to the women to whom I lecture the real value of modern publicity. The formula which I constantly repeat to them is that this is an age of agitation, investigation and ventilation, followed by illumination (that is, publicity in the newspapers) which leads to legislation with a view of reformation. First understand, I tell them; then lend a hand."

Stumbles On Opportunity.
Sixteen years ago Miss Richards

stumbled upon her opportunity almost by accident. She was an ardent women's club member, and frequently was called upon to give the "current events" number on the program of the meetings. Her father was a Washington man with a broad grasp of national affairs (he was an authority on the abstract money question), and Miss Richards was brought up with a close knowledge of the fundamentals of government and economics. Her club paper on current events, therefore, was not the usual superficial skimming of the headlines, but a critical and explanatory discussion, as stimulating to her sister members as an icy mental bath. The meetings in which she spoke became crowded, and then she began giving the current events number for other clubs.

Then one day a well-known society woman of the capital asked Miss Richards to come to her house and give a lecture on public topics to a class of paid members. At the third meeting of this class there were not enough chairs in the mansion to seat all the women who came to listen; and then it was that Miss Richards saw her opportunity in the eagerness of these women to hear the important news of the day explained from a woman's point of view.

Secrets of Her Success.
Initiative and energy in following up an opportunity are the secrets of success. From the start Miss Richards saw that she must have a complete understanding of all the deep problems of international and internal legislation and economics. How she perfected herself in this knowledge, getting much of her information at first hand from presidents, cabinet officers and statesmen in congress, is a story of her success.

"I began just at the time when women were awaiting the importance of understanding public questions," she says. "And my success is that they were willing to surrender, and that their client would accept service as soon as his health should permit. Women who were at Miss Richards' lecture say the surrender came when Miss Rockefeller told her father how the women of her own class regarded his evasion.

Her editorial utterances have sometimes caused exciting little incidents in her lectures. Once when the Balinger case was agitating official Washington, the wife of one of the men involved arose in the midst of Miss Richards' lecture to contradict one of her statements. It took all of the lecturer's tact to smooth over an awkward situation.

Shamed Rockefeller.
Not long ago Miss Richards was giving one of her weekly talks to an audience of 700 women in Sherry's in New York. She was condemning the attitude of William Rockefeller in evading service as a witness before the Pulo committee investigating the money trust.

"He ought to be ashamed to put his government to such trouble and expense," said Miss Richards. "Mr. Morgan appeared willingly before the committee, and Mr. Rockefeller ought to do the same. His attitude indicates that he has something to conceal."

At this point the audience of wives and daughters of Wall street brokers and captains of finance applauded. But one of the audience was the daughter of William Rockefeller. Her lips tightened and she looked straight ahead, but she stayed on through the lecture.

Next morning Rockefeller's attorney sent word to the Pulo committee that they were willing to surrender.

OVERWORK AND MENTAL STRAIN

causes run-down health and sickness. Scott's Emulsion and rest are needed, but SCOTT'S EMULSION is more important because it enriches the blood, nourishes the nerves—builds the body and restores strength, vigor and immediate energy without interrupting daily duties.

HELPING JOHN D. GIVE MONEY AWAY

Jerome D. Greene.

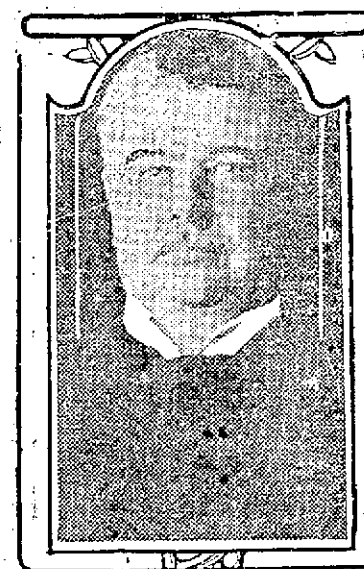

Jerome D. Greene of New York, a trustee in many of Mr. Rockefeller's enterprises, has taken an active part in the campaign for the passage of the bill in congress to incorporate the Rockefeller Foundation with an endowment of $100,000,000. "Mr. Rockefeller," declares Mr. Greene, "desires a federal incorporation for this foundation partly as a matter of sentiment, for he made his money by doing business on a national scale, and he wants his biggest gift to the people to take on a national character. He also believes that control by the people of the whole country is safer and better than control in the interests of any one section."

Nonrusting Tinware.

If new tinware be rubbed over with fresh lard and thoroughly heated in the oven before it is used, it will never rust afterward, no matter how much it is put in water. For stained tinware borax produces the best results. If a teapot or coffee pot is discolored on the inside boil it in a strong solution of borax for a short time and all its brightness will return.

New Light on Socrates.

The misunderstanding of words frequently causes strange answers. A child who had been taught that Socrates had a wife who was unpleasant to him, and that the great philosopher drank hemlock, when asked the cause of his death, replied: "Socrates died from an overdose of wedlock."

FARM TRUST TO CUT COST OF LIVING.

Seth Low, a former mayor of New York city, but who has now gone extensively into farming, has announced that he and some of his friends are getting up a movement which, they believe, will do much to solve the high cost of living.

Capital: co-operation—These are the two ideas on which the plans of Mr. Low and his friends are founded. They have founded a league, a large part of the activity of which will be the promotion of legislation which will open up the way for the producers of New York state to organize co-operative buying and selling associations.

Giant Pineapple.

The Shaker colony near Aston, Fla., has grown a pineapple weighing 13 pounds five ounces. With this pineapple and others nearly approaching its size the Shakers have taken most of the prizes at county and state fairs for the finest pineapples.

"Literally" Habit Yet Again.

We read of a writer in a weekly paper being "literally inundated with congratulations." The congratulations in question must have been of the gushing or sloppy sort.

Foods That Bind Little Children

Start Them Off Right with a Good Laxative and Then Watch Their Diet.

MAJORIE DARLING

Mothers are often unconsciously very careless about the diet of their children, forcing all to eat the same foods. The fact is that all foods do not agree alike with different persons. Hence, avoid what seems to constipate the child or to give it indigestion, and urge it to take more of what is quickly digested.

If the child shows a tendency to constipation it should immediately be given a mild laxative to help the bowels. By this is not meant a physic or purgative, for these should never be given to children, nor anything like salts, pills, etc. What the child requires is simply a small dose of the gentlest of medicines, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which in the opinion of thousands of watchful mothers is the ideal remedy for any child showing a tendency to constipation. So many things can happen to a constipated child that care is necessary. Colds, piles, headaches, sleeplessness, and many other annoyances that children should not have can usually be traced to constipation.

Many of America's foremost families are never without Syrup Pepsin, because one can never tell when some member of the family may need it, and all can use it. Thousands endorse it, among them Mrs. M. E. Darling, R. F. D., No. 4, Bellevue, Pa., who writes: "I certainly think Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin saved my baby's life. Marjorie is a bottle you."

baby and could not get her food to digest, but I found by giving her a small dose of Syrup Pepsin when she had colic it always cured her." Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size being bought by those who already know its value, and it contains proportionately more. Results are always guaranteed, or money will be refunded.

Everyone likes Syrup Pepsin as it is very pleasant to the taste. It is also mild and non-gripping and free from injurious ingredients.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin, and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

Today's Evansville News

Evansville, Jan. 24.—A meeting of a committee consisting of Frank Hyne, Fred Gilman and C. S. Ware was held in the city hall yesterday at ten o'clock a. m., for the purpose of making a list of suitable superintendents for the various departments of the Rock County fair, same to be placed before directors for their approval next Tuesday.

Farmers' Institute.
A committee met Wednesday evening at the home of Chris Jorgenson, for the purpose of considering the advisability of, and resources for, a Farmers' Institute. It was discovered that there was on hand about forty-one dollars which the committee thought to use for the benefit of farmers of the town of Union and attempts are being made to secure suitable speakers, etc. A suggestion was made that prizes be offered for the best ears of white or yellow corn. A great deal depends upon the people. If an institute is wanted, make your wants known and help push it through.

Social and Personal.
Frank Hyne, Orville Jones, Chris Jorgenson and Henry Austin attended the meeting of the state fair association in Madison Wednesday.

Miss Meda Gifford of Edgerton is spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fuller.

Mrs. Fred Winston and Miss Ruth Rye are visiting in Johnston this week.

Mrs. George Thurman Sr., is on the sick list.

Erwin Gabriel has purchased a fine new Ford car, delivery to be made by Hyne and Townsend May first.

Harvey Walton was a Footville visitor yesterday.

Bruce Townsend motored to Magnolia yesterday.

Miss Alice Donnelly of Footville, was a local visitor Thursday.

Glen Clark of Calville, was a business caller yesterday.

Frank Roscoe of Footville, was a business caller here yesterday.

Harry Bennett of Magnolia, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. Charles Fuller entertains tonight in honor of Miss Meda Gifford.

Mrs. Peter Baird and daughter paid Oregon relatives a mid-week visit.

Harry Bennett of Magnolia, and Frank Roscoe of Footville, were recent purchasers of Ford cars from Hyne and Townsend.

Rev. Coon was a mid-week Madison visitor.

Beginning Friday, January 25, a Sunday school institute will be held in the Free Baptist church.

The address for the evening will be given by Rev. Phillips of Madison, and Miss Bailey Wisconsin State Elementary worker will be present also.

Thos. Jones is visiting Oregon relatives.

Fred Gilman was a Madison visitor Wednesday.

The Carroll quartet entertains Friday night in the Congregational church under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Miss Ruth Humphrey of Janesville, was a visitor here yesterday.

The many girl friends of Miss Marion Purinton pleasantly surprised her last evening at her home. A delightful social chat and games, a picnic supper being served from the baskets provided by the guests late in the evening. Miss Purinton left today for Milwaukee, where she resumes her work at the normal.

L. E. Sakaly returned yesterday from a visit in Beloit. Congregational church: morning services at 10:30. Sunday school 11:45. Young People's class at 6:15; evening service at 7:00 with Rev. David Beaton D. D., in the pulpit. Dr. Beaton is one of the greatest preachers of the state. His subject will be "The English Bible in Modern Progress." Hear him. The girls' choir will sing.
